Managing COVID-19

We respect your right to have your own position on the matter of Coronavirus COVID-19 and Vaccinations.

We ask that you respect our responsibility to comply with Government directives as follows:

If you test positive for COVID-19, you may be infectious for up to 10 days. To reduce the risk to others, it is recommended you:

- stay home if unwell, even if your symptoms are mild
- practise personal hygiene including hand washing or using hand sanitiser
- maintain a distance of 1.5 metres away from others where possible
- wear a mask indoors and outdoors when social distancing is not possible
- avoid visiting people at high risk of severe illness, people in hospital, aged care or disability facility for at least 7 days.
